Want some new art but don't feel like riddling your walls with holes? Try Displate, a new art e-shop turning out sub-$100 prints on sheets of thin steel that mount to the wall without screws or nails in 20 seconds. Available in a uniform size of 18 inches by 13 inches, each piece is water resistant and printed in vibrant HD color that won't fade with time (meaning it will stand up to the abuse from multiple moves, the elements, and generally age better than canvas, not to mention you). And hanging's as simple as adhering the included magnet to the desired wall, sticking the print to it, and leveling. There's no shortage of options either, as they've partnered with 100+ artists. Scroll down to check out five of our favorites.

The Whale by Terry Fan — $70
